

Introduction

During these times, we start to notice how much we are special. We are special because we are living through a pandemic. One day we will have children and they will not stop asking questions, and they will ask for a story. They will tell the story to their children, and those children will tell it to their children. The story will change but it will pass on. WE ARE SPECIAL. We have the firsthand account so we can share it.

Places

Church

Church is an important part of my life. When COVID-19 came, we couldn't go to church. When we got the news that our church would be closed for Easter, my mom and I burst into tears. We had to watch the stream online on Facebook. My mom went to sing every Sunday for viewers while my family [except for mom] got ready for church, but at home. When we could finally go to church I was so happy, but I was sad for the other churches because some people couldn't go to church. We are blessed!

School

I can finally go to school! I need to go to school so I am happy! My teacher is nice and I am happy to be back! I love school and I am very happy that my mom and dad decided to let me go to on-campus school.

Home

Home is where I spend most of my time during COVID-19. It helps me to relax, chill out, and have fun! There are a lot of things to do: play outside, play with our toys, and read! I love to read books in the Oz series, and I just finished "The Secret Garden."

People

Miss Chris

There is someone who is helping me during this time and that is Miss Chris. She is always a happy, holy person. She does so many jobs at our church. She makes me feel so happy and cheers me up whenever I see her!

Family

My family keeps me going, plus they can actually hug me, which people outside my family can't do. They keep me warm, happy, and, smiling! We go on trips, we watch movies together, we have yummy meals together, play games together, look at flowers together, and we pray together. I love my family!

Church Friends

My church friends also help me. The choir, the families that come, and so many more are the church! They are fun, silly, crazy, and make me smile. There is one small one that is sooo cute!

Conclusion

If there were not these people and places then I would be bored, depressed, unhappy, lonely, and frustrated. I thank these people and places for how they changed my life!
